

Alcuin Club AGM 2025

Editorial Secretary's Report

This year's publications are due to be issued together to members any day now. Coincidentally both the Collection and the JLS series see their one hundredth publication this year.

Collections

100 (2025)      David Jasper, The Book of Common Prayer and Its Commentators 1655-1901

Tom O'Loughlin, The Bread of Life and the bread in the liturgy (working title) has had to be deferred because of illness.

JLS

99 (2025)      John Baldovin, Processions: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

100 (2025)      Alexander Turpin, Did the Early Christians Build Churches? Revisiting the Evidence

The JLS titles for 2026 have yet to be finalised.

Very sadly, Nathan Chase, the author of last year's double JLS Eucharistic Praying in Ritual Context, died earlier this year.

We are always delighted to receive proposals for publication in both series.

Last year we announced that, because of rising prices, we will publish a Collection every other year and continue to produce two JLS issues every year. Following this new pattern, in 2026 there will be two JLSs and in 2027 a Collection and two JLSs. The subscription will remain at £23 for UK members and still represent excellent value for money.

Gordon Jeanes

publications@alcuinclub.org.uk